

TERRACORPS

TerraCorps is an AmeriCorps affiliated start-up environmental non-profit preparing and mobilizing emerging leaders to help communities gain access to and conserve land for people and nature. Working at the intersection of the land conservation and urban agriculture movements, our vision is to create a future where land is the foundation of health and well-being for ALL people in EVERY community.

This year's TerraCorps program will support up to 60 full-time AmeriCorps Members across Massachusetts and Rhode Island each serving in one of five positions: Land Stewardship Coordinator (LSC), Land Conservation Coordinator (LCC), Community Engagement Coordinator (CEC), Youth Education Coordinator (YEC), or Sustainable Agriculture Coordinator (SAC). Members will serve in full-time, 11-month terms (August 29th, 2022-July 28, 2023) in which they complete at least 1,700 hours of service with one of our partner organizations. Members receive a living allowance, education award, and additional AmeriCorps benefits (see full list at end of announcement).

The East Quabbin Land Trust will host a Youth Education Coordinator for the 2022-23 service year. Information about all TerraCorps positions is available at <https://terracorps.org/>.

Youth Education Coordinator with the East Quabbin Land Trust

The East Quabbin Land Trust works to foster the sustainable use of our natural and historic resources for the benefit of all generations through the conservation and stewardship of the farms, woods and waters in our region of Massachusetts. We envision a regional community that continues to care for its natural environment and supports a sustainable local economy, ensuring a high quality of life for generations to come. The work of the East Quabbin Land Trust is focused in central Massachusetts, an area with a diverse landscape of rivers, villages, rolling farmland, forested highlands, wetlands and working communities. We know that engaging with people of all ages is critical to ensure long-term conservation of these lands and the ability to continue to support our communities. Since 1994, the East Quabbin Land Trust has protected over 5,000 acres by working cooperatively with property owners, government agencies, conservation groups and other land trusts. The East Quabbin Land Trust owns over 1,500 acres and several miles of the Mass Central Rail Trail, on which we host walks, talks and numerous opportunities to engage in the outdoors with others.

The East Quabbin Land Trust office is set in the Town of Hardwick, with rolling farm fields and managed woods all around. We look over the Ware River valley, and gain inspiration from the many conserved properties in the viewshed and region. The small staff and dedicated volunteers at the East Quabbin

Land Trust are mission-driven, always striving to engage more people of all ages and abilities in the care and conservation of our lands. We take risks, we try new things, and we have fun doing this work as we make lasting changes.

Youth Education Coordinators (YEC) build the long-term capacity of their Service Site by engaging youth in service learning, experiential education, and inquiry-based science and nature learning projects. They collaborate with schools, libraries, and youth groups on projects that connect young people to the natural world, improve science literacy, and encourage healthy lifestyles. By serving with youth in an outdoor learning environment, they reinforce the connection between people, nature, and community and foster an inclusive land stewardship ethic in future generations.

TerraCorps Members engage with their supervisors to develop and carry out three or more capacity building projects over the course of the service year. Some of these projects will involve recruiting, training, and/or managing community volunteers. The East Quabbin Land Trust has proposed the following potential project(s) for their Youth Education Coordinator:

- 1) Engage youth in tree planting to improve public health and well-being
- 2) Expand engagement, the arts and learning on the Mass Central Rail Trail and other preserves
- 3) Engage youth in creating children's literature projects that impart messages about land conservation or stewardship themes in Massachusetts
- 4) Engage youth in taking photographs of conserved lands to promote public awareness of these special places and the work of land trusts
- 5) Create videos highlighting youth impacts on EQLT preserves
- 6) Develop a family walking program that uses social media to reach new audiences
- 7) Expand and enhance programs for growing food with local schools
- 8) Develop curriculum for summer camp days on conservation land
- 9) Expand internship and externship opportunities through the local high schools

Development of these and other projects will occur during the first two months of service and consider the Member's interests and skills.
